Teachers Back Without Contracts

Teachers without contracts will be in the classroom as scheduled on school opening dates throughout the province, Walter Hughes, president of the Alberta Teachers Association said this week.

Mr. Hughes was countering rumors that some teachers would not report for duty because of difficulties encountered during the past years in negotiations in their region.

Some 6,800 teachers in seven regional bargaining units have worked without contracts during the last school year. The crisis created by this situation, said Mr. Hughes, threatens quality teaching, classroom conditions and extra curricular activities. No immediate solution appears evident, teachers have and will continue to use all means to resolve deadlock.

Regions affected are Southern Alberta rural areas including the cities of Lethbridge and Medicine Hat, and the regions of Bow Valley, Battle River, Elk Island, North Central West and North Central East.

Teachers in the Drayton Valley Separate School District and the Parkland County School District are in the North Central West region.

new to the school system are asked to present their last report card. New senior high school students will register at one of the high schools prior to September 1, 1971 preferably the week preceding, but no later than August 30 or 31.

Instuctional materials fees, formerly textbook rentals, are set at $8.50 for each student in Grades I through VI. This fee covers all textbooks, workbooks, and standardized achievement tests for the school year.

The fee for Junior High School students is $10.00 with additional fees for special options.

A full-time high school student will pay $17.50 plus the cost of option packages, workbooks, and working papers where needed. Fees for student enrolled in a partial high school program (one semester only) will be 45¢ per credit. Additional fees for the high school student could amount to $25.00 or more depending on course selection.

Parents are advised to contact the school directly regarding additional fees for special courses. Telephone numbers are advertised in this edition of the Western Review.

An extensive new building and school renovation program is presently underway in preparation for the new school year. The new junior high school at Stony Plain may be ready for school opening, while the new high school for Drayton Valley is approximately one month behind schedule. Delays have been caused by adverse weather conditions and strikes by some of the sub trades. Temporary provisions for classroom space will be necessary at Drayton Valley.

New construction plans also include additions at Spruce Grove Upper Elementary and Junior High School, Winterburn School, and DraytonValley Junior High School. Major renovations to existing schools have been completed or are near completion at Spruce Grove Elementary, Stony Plain Elementary, and the three existing schools at Drayton Valley

In addition a number of portable classrooms have been relocated to accommodate increased enrolments and special programs at some of the schools. Seven more portable classrooms have been relocated at Spruce Grove Elementary School to accommodate the rapidly increasing student population there. Other portables (are to be) located at Winterburn School, Stony Plain High School and at Drayton Valley Junior High School.

Reeve's Report

For the past several months Council has been plagued by a request for an investigation, the investigation, reports on the investigation, etc. In view of recent publicity in the press, I feel the record should be set straight.

Certainly on the initial school complaint of moving students to Evansburg from Seba Beach, I had to sympathize with Mr. Grande and the people of the Seba Beach area. I know the anger generated when our high school at Spruce Grove was moved, but we got over it without court cases, etc. and soon forgot we ever had one. But to turn around and campaign to discredit council entirely, has been somewhat aggravating to say the least. Some pertinent facts:

Never did Mr. Grande approach Council to question or ask for an explanation of points raised in the investigation. He and two other men did request that I ask for a judicial enquiry but gave no grounds for the request. He rather held some meetings and got a petition with which he went directly to the Department of Municipal Affairs. The inspectors report, while drawing few conclusions, didn't indicate any impropriety. It did reveal a couple areas of weaknesses and a situation of duplicate mileages, which was certainly open to question. Strangely enough the two areas of concern had both been corrected prior to the investigation. The duplicate mileage occurred where persons attended county council affairs during the day and Recreation Council meeting in the evening. On occasion councillors did not go home and come back and yet received their mileage from the Recreation Council. This total amounted to approximately $400. for 1970. The Recreation Council recognized the problem and corrected it this spring. The County Solicitor, on studying the report, recommends that where this duplicate mileage occurred it be refunded, and Council agreed to this. While Council has always treated the Recreation Council as a separate entity, similar to Hospital, Health Unit and Senior Citizens Boards, the solicitor points out that from a legal point it is not, and must be treated as part of Council operation. I was wrongly quoted in the Reporter as I in fact said from a legal point of view double mileage could not be charged. The technicality was the old recreation council motion which read "Payment for board members be at the rate of $15.00 per meeting and 12¢ per mile".

The problem of a day and a half arose because some members of council were required to spend very long evenings after the rest had gone home after a full day meeting, especially the committee negotiating teachers salaries who often sat till 12 or 1 in the morning. It was felt some compensation must be allowed for this and the extra half day was agreed upon. I must take the responsibility for the fact that the motion was not taken and recorded. I truly thought it had been. There were very few occasions that any councillor took advantage of this provision unless it was a late meeting. This oversight, of no motion, also was corrected by Council prior to the investigation.

The other major item in the complaint was the matter of a land sale. Here again the inspectors report shows Council acted in the proper manner by accepting the highest tender and not a lower one, as suggested by the complainants.

The inspectors, after submitting their report, met Council to review and discuss it. They indicated they felt our affairs were handled well and offered no criticism. We then, to check our legal position, referred the report to the County Solicitor. He reviewed it from a legal point of view, and found little of concern but did recommend a couple things I have mentioned earlier.

With all these complaints against Council perhaps we should look at the record of this Council.

This Council and School Committee, for the most part, have been a group who have been prepared to give the job the time it required. We are now being criticized for spending too much time. I personally said when I ran for office I would give the job the time needed and was and am prepared to see anyone, anytime, and my personal affairs will not interfere. I could easily cut 50 days a year off, but I would not be doing the job I was elected for. Many days are spent showing industrial people around the County and promoting it, and I can point to several instances where this personal attention has sold the company on our County. Time spent preparing submissions to the government on such matters as school buildings, the suggested industrial tax sharing, etc. take a great deal of time but are certainly necessary. It was largely through the leadership and efforts of our County that the tax sharing bill was tabled. This bill could have cost us up to 1/3 of our assessment. All this time could have been saved, but would we be doing our job? I don't think so and I'm sure the ratepayers don't. I think the rest of Council are in the same position, especially our council members from far out who have been most faithful. Councillors travelling over treacherous roads in -50 and -60 weather to be at meetings are now faulted for working too much. I do realize there are very very few people who feel this way. Again I re-iterate, I feel these people on Council and School Committee have been a very dedicated group and I think have handled your affairs well.

Let us look at the record. Our County has literally been exploding. We have growth of all kinds. People are moving into the County in ever-increasing numbers, business and industry is moving in, development in our County is unparalleled in any rural area of this Province. This is happening because people are pleased with what they find here and have faith it will continue. In the past 2½ years of County operation, the mill rate has been reduced from 68 3/4 to 66 in a period of rapidly escalating costs, while at the same time providing increasing services. I'm sure all of you can see the progress in public works. Our extensive oiling program has reduced the dust hazard and annoyance. Certainly we would like to do more, but it is very costly. Services, I am sure, are at an all time high. Roads were kept open in a most difficult winter, with men and councillors working even Christmas Day to keep traffic flowing.

In the school area, a new school has been completed at Spruce Gove, a new Junior High School is under construction at Stony Plain and a new High School is under construction at Drayton Valley. Additions have also been approved and are proceeding for schools at Spruce Grove and Winterburn, as well as major renovations in Drayton Valley and Stony Plain. Approvals for schools are not obtained by simply writing a letter asking. Documents and material must be prepared; it must be accurate and factual. This is very time consuming, but gets results. I could go on listing many things but I'd sound the same as someone making one accusation after the other, proving nothing. I think Council must go on their record. If the ratepayers feel it is a poor record, they will make changes this fall. This is the perogative of the ratepayers and not of some self-appointed critic. I am sure the ratepayers are capable of making this decision.

Anyone wishing to read the inspectors report or the solicitors report may do so at the County Office.

Council business has been carrying on in spite of all the accusations, investigations, etc. and next month I will get back to reporting happenings. However, I felt the facts needed to be set out and we trust this will be the end and people can start working together again to keep our County the No. 1 in the Province.

In closing I would also like to thank the many people who have taken time to let me know how strongly they feel about this type of abuse and their assurance that the great majority have faith and confidence in Council, and do appreciate the work being done. Your reaction has been very much appreciated.

Sincerely,
Les Miller.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

By Kevin Peterson and Don Sellar (Of the Calgary Herald)

Alberta's rural constituencies appear to offer slim pickings to Conservative candidates in the Aug. 30 balloting.

While the Tories might gain a split in the 29 Calgary and Edmonton constituencies in this election, there is little evidence that Social Credit's traditional rural base will erode sharply.

The opposition party is bound to make some inroads in some rural regions -- particularly in central Alberta where as many as six seats look promising.

In seeking a 10th election mandate, the Social Credit party remains the favorite. The government party maintains a solid base in the south, will win a majority of northern seats and shows no glaring weakness in any region of the province.

While Tory candidates are the prime challengers in virtually every riding, the New Democrats are running strong in a surprising number of seats.

NDP leader Grant Notley has a good chance of upsetting Socred incumbent A.O. Fimrite, minister in charge of northern development, in the northern riding of Spirit River-Fairview, for example.

The Socred cabinet ministers and incumbent back-benchers, with only a few exceptions, remain solid favorites in rural ridings but many first-time SC candidates are engaged in close contests.

Tory hopes are highest in seats such as Highwood, Rocky Mountain House, Camrose, Ponoka, Peace River, Athabasca and Lethbridge-East, where the party has found popular local personalities to carry the banner.

Both Premier Harry Strom and Tory leader Peter Lougheed have completed their tours, and are concentrating on major rally appearances to put their respective campaigns over the top in the campaign's closing days.

On the whole, the campaign has been a quiet one with local organization and issues the dominant factors. Typical of the level of debate has been the Socred-Tory squabble over which party is spending more money on the election.

One Tory organizer suggests the Socreds are running a $1 million campaign that is five times greater than the Conservative budget, while SC sources complain Mr. Lougheed's backers would expect favors from a PC government.

One little-discussed aspect of the campaign is the Daylight Saving Time plebiscite, which many political observers believe will pass because of a lack of well-organized opposition this time.

Editor,
The Western Review,
Dear Sir:

Who is buying my vote? Full page ads in the Journal, glossy multi-colored handouts, even half hour TV programs - all extol me to vote for a certain party or man.

What does it cost to buy a page in the Journal? A half page ad in our excellent Western Review? The continual barrage of prime time commercials? Loads, that's how much!

I do not doubt that such campaign expenses are necessary and certainly they must be effective. But, as a voter, I would like to know where the money to convince me to "Keep Building Alberta" or to "Breakthrough Now" comes from.

Who would take so much interest? Private citizens? Most of us are even too apathetic to bother with a party membership! Benevolent foundations? Corporations? Unions? Who? Why?

I believe our candidates in this constituency are all men of integrity. After the Big Day has come and gone they will probably publish a statement of expenses. But wouldn't it be more interesting if all parties and candidates told us who pays the bills? Or are we to believe that politics in Alberta are somehow more "moral" than other transactions of life where we normally assume that the one who pays the piper calls the tune?

We can all see who's doing the piping. What bothers me is who plans to benefit from their expensive melodies?

Dale D. Mohr.

Editorial Comment

Living Room for Future

A common bleat by politicians and those supporting the pillage of forests, streams and parks by industry, is, "But look at all those trees and empty space. We'll never fill it up, or use it up."

How wrong they are in believing that this great emptiness indicates more room for many, many more people and tremendous industrial strides. The vast forests play a primary role in preserving watersheds and replenishing the air we breathe.

Arthur Godfrey, entertainer-turned-conservationist, covers the subject clearly. "As ingenious as our technologists have become," he says, "they cannot manufacture one grain of soil or one drop of water or one cubic inch of fresh air. Man -- especially urban man -- actually contributes nothing to the environment but pollution."

Nobody would deny that Alberta still has room for industrial expansion -- but judiciously we hope, and with a great deal of thought about tomorrow. It's a subject that we hope those seeking election to the next Legislative Assembly, will consider carefully, and if elected should bear in mind that living room for future Albertans is vastly more important than lining the pocketbooks of today's money-men.

Support for Brazeau View

The editor of The Western Review takes this opportunity to express his thanks to the several people who phoned to express support of his views on the Brazeau reservoir in last week's Editorial Comment.

Concerned residents are the first requirement to get governments moving on the right track. Perhaps it's not too late. If enough of us get mad, something may yet be done to improve the Great Dismal Swamp.

Questionable Advertising

A bill, presently before the House of Commons, to be known as "The Competition Act", considerably broadens the powers and scope of the department of consumer and corporate affairs. One section of the new act would deal with misleading advertising, including such things as selling at higher than advertised prices, or "bait and switch" selling.

Few reputable publications or other forms of the media would quarrel with any attempt to control and eradicate misleading advertising, although in fairness it should be pointed out that a great deal of misleading or questionable advertising is weeded out by publishers or broadcasters and as a result the general public is already receiving some form of protection.

The federal department, under Hon. R. Basford, would do well to look at other aspects of advertising which cannot really be called misleading, but are certainly questionable in value to the public. Regularly, requests to advertise get-rich-quick schemes and do-it-yourself ideas are rejected by this publication, as they are by most others.

For example, we felt that the advertising of a do-it-yourself divorce kit was undesirable from the public's point of view. While we readily accept the fact that some marriages should be dissolved for various reasons, it is our feeling that it is a step that should not be taken lightly. For this reason we declined to publish the advertisement.

Perhaps Mr. Basford's department should direct its attention to the operation of such firms, their products or services, and then decide whether it is advertising that is the culprit or if it is the questionable ethics and business practices of some entrepreneurs.

Court Favors Construction Of New Evansburg School

A second attempt to prevent the construction of a controversial high school in Evansburg has been dismissed in Alberta Supreme Court.

Mr. Justice S. S. Lieberman, in a bench judgment delivered at the end of a three-day trial Thursday, dismissed a statement of claim by 13 residents of the County of Parkland and Yellowhead School Division. They sought an injunction restraining the two school jurisdictions from proceeding with the school.

Mr. Justice Lieberman ruled that the residents, didn't have "the status" or "special interest" required to properly bring the action.

There was considerable doubt, he said, whether the Crown was a party to the action. Much of the trial was taken up with argument on this point. The Crown was named in the claim but E.G. Hughson, counsel for the attorney-general's department, said the Crown could not be joined under terms of the Judicature Act.

Counsel for the residents, G. S. D. Wright, maintained that the Crown could be joined to the action because the school buildings board, as an administrative body of the minister of education, had not followed certain statutory rules.

Mr. Justice Lieberman said he "adopted fu 'y" the reasons of Mr. Justice W. R. Sinclair who last April refused an application for an interim injunction against the school because the plaintiffs did not show "substantial grounds" for doubting the right of the two school boards to reach a tuition agreement regarding pupils.

Mr. Wright, in an amended statement of claim, asked for an injunction restraining the defendants from proceeding with establishment of the school.

In the alternative, he asked for an injunction pending a redetermination by the school buildings board of the need for the school and a re-hearing by the Local Authorities Board on an application by Yellowhead School Division for approval of debenture borrowing for the school.

The statement of claim also asked for a declaration that the court rule that a recognition of need issued by the school buildings board in May, 1970 had expired.

The claim further stated that the recognition of need was based on a May, 1970, statement of need (for a school) by the Yellowhead School Division which was "fundamentally inaccuarate" as to the pupil makeup for the project.

Mr. Justice Lieberman said he had allowed the amended statement of claim because of plaintiffs "seriously feel themselves agrieved," and he later added that he was convinced they had brought the action forward "in all sincerity."

However, he regarded much of the evidence presented as irrelevant and said he was not satisfied that he could place the court in the position of substituting for decisions by bodies set up by statute.

Mr. Justice Lieberman pictured the dispute as one based on the problem of inconvenience and school bus transportation problems rather than on the matter of quality of education. (The plaintiffs wanted to keep the students at Seba Beach School rather than going to Evansburg).

Even if the plaintiffs had status, he said he would dismiss the application because it was his opinion that the school authorities had followed proper procedures, regulations were not violated in any substantial particular, a ratepayers' meeting in March, 1971, did not rescide the tuition agreement and the recognition of need had not lapsed.

David McDonald was counsel for Yellowhead School Division and J. E. Cote was counsel for the County of Parkland.

The Ladies' ball team played a game at Lindale, August 12th. Lindale won 29 to 27. A return game was played at Buck Creek, August 17th, Buck Creek winning 11 to 7.

Sympathy of the community goes to the family of Mrs. Peter Hornberg who passed away recently. Many people in our district will remember Mrs. Hornberg as the lady who played for dances years ago.

While Mr. and Mrs. Stan Melin were away they visited Mrs. Melin's brother at Fort Providence and Mrs. Melin's brother at Burns Lake, B. C.

Have you noticed the heavy harvest of hay bales in some of the fields? It doesn't seem possible one field could produce so many. With the long spell of good weather, quite a few farmers report they are finished haying. Lots of clover fields also make a good honey crop and this looks like our best year as beekeepers..

GAINFORD NEWS

This week to visit Mrs. Klovansky were granddaughters Karen Klovan of Calgary and Leslie Pezzot from Vancouver. At the week-end friends Mr. and Mrs. Lou LeClair of St. Albert came to visit. Mrs. Klovansky's daughter Mrs. Marten with her daughter Debbie and friend Bernie all from Denver, Colorado were here for ten days. While they were here Edward Klovan of Calgary came to see his sister.

At the Diduk home they are painting and decorating inside. A grandson and family Mr. and Mrs. Eddy Diduk from Snow Lake Manitoba were here for a few days.

Gainford residents are bustling with activity. The Harry Clarkes' are landscaping their acreage. The Hugh McLachlans' are having a new well drilled. Those folks who enjoy berrying are out for blueberries. Reports are that they aren't so plentiful this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Hermanutz, parents of Mrs. John Dzus were visiting her on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pariseau of Belleview, Alberta are visiting her mother, Mrs. Ruth McLellan, and other relatives in and near Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Butts took their three boys to the Edson Rodeo. Barry stayed at Edson to visit an aunt and uncle, Mr and Mrs. Bowman. This past week the Butts boys took advantage of the swimming lessons at Entwistle.

Addition to the Butts menagerie are Polky, a 4-month old stallion, gentle as a kitten, and Duchess, a bit more cautious. Mrs. Butts tells me they have ten ponies now, not all ready or broke for riding yet but some in training.

Mrs. Butts is just learning to ride and is getting a bit more brave.

Speaking of horses, Mr. Lawley went to the Horse Show at the Edmonton Gardens. Being from the farm in the days of horses for work and pleasure, he enjoys the performance of well-trained horses.

At the McNamee house they had Mr. and Mrs. J. Unger of Calgary for a week. One weekend Mr. and Mrs. Unger and Mrs. McNamee went to McLennon, Alberta. Mrs. McNamee is from McLennon so visiting her home town was a pleasure.

Mr. and Mrs. Len Thompson and son of Ruthvien, Ontario visited Mr. McNamee, Mrs. Thompsons brother. They hadn't seen each other for thirty years, so had a lot of pleasure reminiscing.

Miss Sandy McNamee is home this summer between rodeos. She competes in steer undecorating, group calf tying and barrel racing. She is 9th in the Top Ten for Barrel Racing across Canada. She will compete at the finals in September at Vancouver, B.C.

Boys and girls of the community are attending Vocational Bible Class in the hall this week.

Driving by the Millars' last night I see a trailer in their yard so I phoned to hear that they have Mr. and Mrs. Evoy of Edmonton to visit them.

Mr. Lawley and I went to Stony Plain to see the Flower Show and Arts & Crafts Display on Aug. 19th. Representing Gainford, I sent a few articles of craft work for the display.

Our community was lucky enough to obtain a grant from the County of Parkland to be used for wages for students. We put them to work building an addition to the hall, when the money ran out an inspector came out from the County. She was very pleased with the work and we have now received additional funds to be spent again on student employment. So the students are now busy working again.

Season Ending For Hail Project

Hail activity usually falls off rapidly in August, and this year appears to be no exception. Hail has been reported in the Alberta Hail Studies project area on only three days in the first half of the month. South of Calgary there was even less, with some spotty small hail on only two days.

Since the hail season is nearly over, the Alberta Hail Studies is now gradually phasing out various operations. The T-33 cloud seeding aircraft returned to Ottawa last weekend after an eight week stay in Alberta. During this period a total of eleven cloud seeding experiments were carried out at widely separated locations within the project area. The main effort during the last two months has been to collect as much data as possible on all storms - both seeded and unseeded. All of this information is now being carefully checked and catalogued prior to the detailed analysis which will commence as soon as the staff have moved back to Edmonton in September.

The radar at Penhold will be kept running until the end of this week. The last week in August will be spent packing all the equipment away for the winter before the summer assistants return to University.

In order to keep the climatology of hail in Alberta up-to-date, all hail occurrences should still be reported right through to mid-September by mailing in the special report cards.

No F.G.A. Meeting

There will be no regular monthly meeting of the Pembina Oilfield Fish and Game Association during August. Meetings will commence again in September.

SLAUGHTER CATTLE AND CALVES

Slaughter steers opened steady for the quality on offer with a few top quality and desirable weights bringing 32.00. As the week closed sales were slow on steers with prices ranging 25 - 50 lower for the better quality kinds. Butcher heifers opened on the firm side with choice high yielding kinds topping 28.00 and remained generally steady for the week. Butcher cows, especially the lower grades, and bulls were sharply lower for the week. Good cows were mostly 1.00 lower with only a few sales over 21.50 for good dry fed cows, medium and lower grades (used for boneless export beef) were off 1.00 to 1.50. Increased offerings of bulls under curtailed export orders prices were ranging up to 3.00/cwt. lower. Veal and lighter weight butcher calves opened 2.00 - 3.00 lower and remained steady.

Evansburg Girl Reports On Trip to Ottawa

By Dawn Brown

Educanada was introduced to our class, Grade 10, late last spring. Mr. Keast outlined the project for us. Students who were interested signed up for the trip. Cost of the trip to us was $16 (excluding miscellaneous spending money). Donald Reed and myself were chosen to go. But now Ottawa had to select 3008 students out of all the High Schools, across Canada, who had sent applications. Unfortunately Donald received no word back from Ottawa so missed the trip.

The project Educanada was the dream of a man named Mr. Nutter from Ottawa. Mr. Nutter made the plans and received a grant from the Federal Government. This grant averaged $25 per student. So with the $16 registration fee and grant Mr. Nutter now had $41 per pupil.

The 3000 students travelled at various times throughout the two months holiday. Eight groups in all.

August 3rd the fifth group, mine, one hundred and twenty-five girls and boys left Edmonton on a Nordair 737 jet. The flight was beautiful and a first time for most of us.

Headquarters for Educanada were at Sir Robert Borden High School. Dorms were set up to accommodate 400 students.

We had a glorious week with students from Alberta, B. C., Ontario and Quebec and the Yukon. One half spoke English, other half either French or Bilingual. The fellowship and the friendliness of all the girls and boys is something I will not forget. A real education for all — especially students from smaller schools.

During the next eight days we toured the Parliament Buildings, watched the changing of the Guards. Toured Supreme Court of Canada. Visited Eisenhower locks on the St. Lawrence Seaway. We also visited Upper Canada Village in Quebec. Ottawa Observatory and many art gallerys and museums.

One afternoon nine buses travelled down Sussex drive, a beautiful ride to say the least, where such VIP's as Prime Minister Trudeau (away travelling again so did not see him), Bob Stanfield. The Galloping Gormet have their homes. We were also honored to tour Governor General Mitchner's elaborate home. All the sights we saw were fantastic.

A day was spent in Montreal. The first stop being "Notre Dame Cathedral". The size and beautiful workmanship of this church was admired by all. The afternoon was spent at "Man and his World", Expo. Here we were on our own to explore the pavillions.

The highlight of the trip for me was the beautiful evening cruise down the Ottawa River. As well as places mentioned there are many sites which I have not mentioned, but none of which I will ever forget.

Parents can be assured of excellent supervision at all times. Our days began at 6:30 and we were kept busy until mid-nite.

I envy the student who will have this wonderful trip next year. I would love to do this all over again but at least I was fortunate to have attended the first year of "Project Educanada".

My deepest thanks to all who made this experience possible for me. I sincerely hope the dream of Mr. Nutter's will continue and give others the dream of looking forward to this trip each year.

Take notice that the following resolution was passed at a special meeting held by the Council of the Village of Evansburg on Wednesday, August 18th, 1971.

"Councillor Croft moved it being the opinion of the Council of the Village of Evansburg that lands to which the village holds title namely Lot 3, Block 482C.H. and Part Block 7, Plan 1187 C.L. and designated as Public Reserve are not required for said purpose but would more adequately fulfill the dire need of land for residential development within the village, therefore the council intends to make application to the Provincial Planning Advisory Board for an order to dispose of the reserve and that a Public Hearing will be held in the Village Office between the hours of 8:00 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. on Wednesday, September 22nd, 1971 to hear any written objection to the proposal that have been received prior to the day of the hearing."

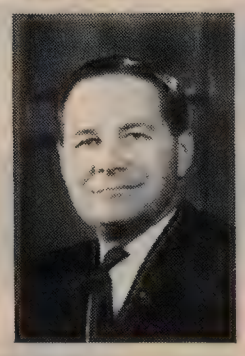
HART CANTELON



Readers wishing to write to Mr. Cantelon are invited to do so. All letters to be forwarded to Hart Cantelon Counselling Services Ltd., 1600 Cambridge Building, Edmonton. Please include a stamped self-addressed envelope to ensure a reply.

Dear Mr. Cantelon:

My husband and I have been married for about a year and we are expecting our first child. I have been reading books about bringing up children. Because I had such a poor sex education as a child, and it led to some problems in my life, I feel that I want to make this aspect of my children's life as normal as possible. My husband is more modest than I, but he enjoys reading Playboy Magazine. I have been reading some articles in this magazine and don't find it offensive at all. However, I am wondering what effect you think having this sort of magazine around the house would have on a child. If it wouldn't harm the children, I would forget about it. Otherwise, I don't think we would have it in the house.

Dear Parent:

Of course, there are many helpful articles in any magazine. If the editorial staff of any publication did not cater to a cross-section of human need, they'd soon go out of business. But the problem with a magazine like Playboy is the philosophy of life which underlies the entire approach to its publication. If you believe that sex is the be-all and end-all of life, and you want your children raised this way, then have them read Playboy magazine. Again and again, we must look into the authorship of the material we read to really assess its value. Read about Hugh Hefner's life pattern, and then project your child's life into that chaos of plosh hotel living complete with drunkeness, promiscuity and bunny-girls and then ask of yourself "Is this what I want for my children"? Hefner is the chief architect of this magazine's pattern and thinking. I'd far rather have my child read Marx's Das Capital, though I'm no marxist than adopt Hefner as a pattern for living.

Dear Mr. Cantelon:

Our daughter is 12 and in grade 7. She is a quiet girl and has never made friends easily. Her marks have been quite poor all through her grades and with this last report card, she was below class average in nearly all her subjects. Class average was 59. She is required to do her homework as soon as she comes from school. But once, her father comes home from work, he begins to play with the other children and there seems to be no settling down from then on. Our home is not large, and the children are so easily distracted by any noise. All of our children have trouble with reading comprehension. I would appreciate any suggestions you might make.

Dear Mother:

Every parent needs to know the capabilities of each child. This will help you not to push beyond the child's ability to reach a given goal. With the history of poor marks, it would be best to have your daughter tested at a Guidance Clinic. Following the testing, make sure you have a thorough session with the counsellor to find out the true potential of your child. Ask for help as to school program. Relate these findings with her teacher or teachers this fall, and get the remedial help she will need in such areas as reading comprehension. Dad, also needs to realize that routine is important. I don't mean that he shouldn't play with the children, but arrangements can be made so that this play-time does not interrupt with the achievement of homework schedule etc. In other words, he shouldn't just barge in at the end of the day with the attitude that Dad's home so let's have some fun. Emotional children tend to have difficulty quieting down once feelings have been aroused. So parents need to work within these limitations when emotional control is difficult.

ANNOUNCING . . .
The Pentecostal Tabernacle
UNDENOMINATIONAL WEE COLLEGE

WEE COLLEGE is a very interesting Bible Kindergarten course, for 4 and 5 year-olds. It is a play-learning program. -- The children meet one morning a week during the Wee College year --

THURSDAY MORNINGS - 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.
From October to April

Interesting repetition is an important key to learning. Color association with a colored teaching Bible, properly colored toys, songs, charts and puppets help the children to learn the Bible parts -- Old Testament, New Testament, Books of Moses, Book of History, Books of Poetry, Major Prophets, Minor Prophets, Gospels, Book of History, Paul's Letters, General Letters, Book of Prophecy. Names for the Bible and how the Bible was written are also included in this part.

Eleven Bible verses are learned by means of flashcards, folderama, pictures, charts, songs, tokens and illustrated properly colored verse sheets. The verse sheets are to be placed in the child's home where the child will see them often. It is surprising how quickly these are learned.

Puppets, flannelgraph, large pictures mounted on the right colors, flashcards, songs, etc. are used to tell the Bible stories to illustrate basic doctrines -- The Bible, the Law God, the Trinity, God-Creator, Man and Sin, Birth and Life of Christ, Crucifixion and the Resurrection, Ascension, Second Coming, Holy Spirit, Healing and Heaven.

There is more, too. If you send your child, you will soon see your child grow more interested in the Bible.

D. V. Highlights

BY MRS. EDITH DEBY

Mr. Roy Burrows was called home to England suddenly on the weekend by the death of his father. Our sympathy goes to Mr. Burrows in his bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Marler were visitors in the St. Louis home recently. Mrs. St. Louis and Mr. Marler are cousins.

The Frank Hazzards and their daughter and son-in-law greatly enjoyed a camper holiday in Canada and United States. Going east the party followed the Trans-Canada to Thunder Bay were they visited relatives for five days While on sight seeing tours a harbour cruise and a tour of the world's largest grain elevator were of special interest. The grain elevator is capable of holding enough wheat at one time to make two loaves of bread for each man, woman and child in North America. Isn't that a lot of dough?

Coming back by way of Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana offered many points of interest to the travelling public. Frank would like someone to explain to him why various retailers in the United States thought they should be paid exchange on his American travellers cheques.

We are sorry to hear that Miss Bouffard is ill.

If you are a good friend of Mrs. Clavin Bartlett you will refrain from telling her anything to make her laugh for the next few weeks. Mrs. Bartlett received broken ribs when the car in which she was riding was in collision with another vehicle. Her friends are thankful that her injuries were no worse.

Encountered Mr. and Mrs. John Suffron in one of the local super markets on Saturday. The Suffrons are just back from a trip to Ottawa. There accounts of soft ball size ripe tomatoes on the vines is enough to make one drool. No, John did not call on Mr. Trudeau.

Don't forget the Women's Institute Flower and Horticultural Show on Wednesday, August 25, in the Elks Community Hall. If you have no exhibits yourself come and admire anyway from 2:30 to 4:30 and have a cup of tea and a cookie.

Moon Lake P.O. to Close

The Moon Lake Post Office will be closed on September 18, 1971.

In November 1926, Mr. Carl P. Jensen opened a Post Office, and gave it, and the community, the name of Moon Lake. It was a very heavily wooded area, with the nearest post office being Entwistle, ten miles away, and Drayton Valley, eighteen miles away.

Mr. C. P. Jensen was the first postmaster, then on his retirement, his eldest son, Soren Christian Leo Jensen became postmaster, and when he reached retirement age, his wife Mrs. Blanche Jensen became postmaster, and now on her retirement, the Post Office is closing its doors.

Leo and Blanche would like to thank their many patrons, also all concerned with the post office work, for their understanding and help in the past fory-five years.

CANDIDATES FORUM

PROGRESSIVE CONSERVATIVE

The Platform of the Progressive Conservative party is a document of some hundred pages. In preparing the platform our party looked at every department of the government in Alberta. In all areas we could see glaring inadequacies which we have taken as challenges for improvement. From the challenges we have formulated the new directions that we would strive towards in the 1970's.

What do we see as the challenge in agriculture? Basically improve the cash income of the farmer, offset the cost-price squeeze, in which the farmer finds himself and establish a land use policy which would aim at maintaining the family farm. What are our new directions?

First we would inform the Federal Government that all plans for the improvement of agriculture would receive no support unless there has been prior planning and participation by the Alberta Government. All of you have heard about Bill C-176, an attempt by the Federal Government to introduce Marketing Boards that would include quotas and many other restrictions. Your Conservative team worked very hard in the last sitting of the legislature to prod the Social Credit into at least getting cattle and hogs excluded from this bill.

We will insist on having as a decision-making member of the Canadian Wheat Board, a joint representative of the Alberta Government and Alberta agricultural producers.

We would play an active role in reducing and offsetting the present inadequate transportation facilities that work against the efficient distribution of Alberta's agriculture products. To improve cash incomes we would eliminate the charging of property tax for social services such as education; thus allowing the municipal governments to give improved services. Further we would reform the provisions for crop insurance and set up a Development Credit Agency to provide such needed credit to low-income farmers.

R. Zander,
Progressive Conservative Candidate.

N.D.P

There are many basic issues very relative to this election which the N.D.P. has always proposed and which the "Tory Twins" have tried to ignore or confuse in this campaign. Among them:

1. The "Tory Twins" are trying to make a non-issue out of Agriculture by glossing over the issue of the family farm, with hollow policies meant to confuse the farmer. Their major concern is to print enough paper on agriculture while concealing the fact that they have no comprehensive policy. The Tories, for example, display their haste to print up policy in the following contradiction in a pamphlet: "ownership of land should remain with Alberta residents..." and "(g) Loans for Alberta farms to Alberta residents should be restricted."

If you can believe in Tory Twin concern for the farmer, ask yourself two questions: "What have they done in the past?" and "Why should big-business, urban-oriented parties concern themselves with the individual farmer?" From its very beginning the NDP has had its roots in the farming population of this country, which explains the N.D.P successes in Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

2. The valuation of mineral resources: At present, Alberta oil royalties run from 24¢ to 50¢ a barrel; the Middle East countries are now getting $1.35. Two months ago the government went on record that these royalties should not be increased next year when they come up for their 'ten year' review. An NDP government would negotiate higher royalties in all mineral resources.

3. Deficit financing and sales tax: The Tory Twins have already spent millions in election promises, and yet, last year the Socreds made many budget cut-backs. If they did fulfill these 'pie-in-the-sky' promises, where would they get the money? Neither party will deny a sales tax. The NDP in Alberta is against a sales tax. Where will an NDP government get its money? Up to $170,000,000 would come from reasonable increases on mineral royalties alone.

4. Political favors: Every NDP candidate will owe no political favors to anyone but the people. It is a people-oriented party, and that is where its financial support is.

If elected, I will try to coordinate the wants and needs of this constituency through close and constant contact with groups and associations in all districts and towns.

Alvin Harmacy,
Drayton Valley N.D.P. Association.

SOCIAL CREDIT

What are the issues in this election?

The Social Credit Party points to its proven record of sound administration over the past 36 years. During the past ten years Alberta's population has increased by 23.9%, second only to B.C. and Ontario and far ahead of Manitoba's 8% increase and Saskatchewan's 3%. Unemployment is the lowest in Canada. Alberta is the only province without a sales tax. Alberta's growth has been achieved largely without debt, on a pay as you go basis. Income from invested reserves more than covers the interest on the total Provincial debt. This situation is unique to Alberta of all jurisdictions in North America. The share of total education cost borne by property tax in Alberta in only 39%, lowest in Canada. A positive platform is offered for the future. Some points are: Preservation of the Family Farm, A Farm Produce Marketing program, Province to pay 1/4 of crop insurance premiums, $1000.00 first-time home purchase grant, Reduced medicare premiums for senior citizens, smaller centres, Development of a Grid Road System, More parks and recreation areas, Assistance to Cultural Development, $10.00 per person capital grant for recreation facilities, more assistance to pre-school education, and a policy of full-employment.

By contrast, the other two parties, both Conservative and N.D.P. are proposing to plunge this province into debt. Both propose to undertake programs that would almost certainly result in a 5% to 7% sales tax and which would result in a heavy debt load for this province. The N.D.P. has nothing to offer Albertans apart from a proposal to take over the Power Companies and Auto Insurance. The positive results of these takeovers would be nil, as has been proven by the Saskatchewan experience, where these and other business takeovers were made in 1944. In the ten years following that event, population in Saskatchewan declined by almost 10%. By 1964 when the Liberals came back to power in Saskatchewan, the provincial debt was the highest per capita in Canada. In the ten year period just past, Saskatchewan's population increase has been only 3% compared to Alberta's 23.9%. Obviously the N.D.P. can do nothing to benefit the people of this province, and would plunge Alberta into debt. This they have in common with the Conservatives.

Locally, as your representative on the Government side of the legislature, I believe I can accomplish much more for the people of this constituency than can a member of the opposition. I have already made strong representations to the Hon. Gordon Taylor, Highways Minister, on the matter local roads. On the matter of the Buck Creek - Alder Flats road in particular, Mr. Taylor has asked me to submit a recommendation for the future improvement of this road.

Finally, I believe the basic issue in Alberta and elsewhere, is the continuing struggle between statism or socialism and the freedom of the individual to direct his own affairs as much as possible. Those who desire personal freedom should vote Social Credit. To divert a substantial part of the free enterprise vote to any other party will only assist the socialists to gain power. Therefore I urge you to vote Tom Johnson, Social Credit on August 30th.

Tom Johnson
Social Credit Candidate

LIBERAL

As your Liberal candidate I wish to state plainly that I am for the Alberta people and do not necessarily agree with the federal Trudeau policy in all things. In some cases where I belive federal policy to be harmful to Alberta's interests, I will not hesitate to say so. When a person is elected to office and is given the confidence of the public, it is deplorable that such a man be "missing when needed". If elected by the people of the Whitecourt constituency, I will always be concerned for the problems of the people of this area and will be available to take up the battle when anyone's just interests are threatened by any level of government, or by any Party. I give this pledge, that I will be no Hack, nor stuffed shirt, but that I will fight to the end of the line for justice, for anyone, even from outside our constituency if and when warranted. We pass this way but once:

There will very likely be a "minority" government after this election is over. I hope for the sake of the future of democracy in this province that some Liberals will be numbered amongst them. The Liberal Party of Alberta is on the "up and coming" path. Your Liberal Party of Alberta will cross swords with any Ottawa government for the Alberta people. The provincial governments which fight hardest for their people against Dominion government conflict of interest, and the ones most difficult to "put down", are Liberal provincial governments. A provincial Liberal Government will not be dictated to by Ottawa.

I, Art Yates, declare clearly that I desire nothing from Ottawa, except fair treatment for Alberta's workers, businessmen, and farmers. As for myself, I mean to be a "fighter" for the interests of our own province.

As to Socred policies of the past, what has the Alberta farmer ever received from the natural wealth of our land? It seems to me that he has been given nothing but promises and much talk. The Liberal Party of Alberta policy has many good things for our people. Not wild promises, but reasonable, practicable matters which could and should have been enacted long ago. One of these is the initially free crop and pest insurance plan which calls for no premium, but which only requires a reasonable contribution after the reaping of the best harvest of each five years. Initial funds for this will come from increased royalties. Of course Harry Strom is talking nonsense when he tells us that the present crumb from the rich man's table is sufficient for Alberta's citizens, when he points to schools and other buildings as evidence that these crumbs from royalties are enough. He can't really be unaware that these buildings are paid for by the public, and many of them not even paid for yet. The strange thing about the current glut of promises is that the province is really rich enough to afford about 90 per cent of them if we elimiate the wild and wooly ones. We need a man in that legislature who will frequently remind the promisers of their promices. I, Art Yates, pledge myself never to let the public down. It is a sorry situation when any one Party is in power for a great number of years. The existence of an automatic and overwhelming majority, over a long period of time, in any legislature, is an abominable affront to a democratic people, and it inspires a tendency to ignore the reasonable requests of the public and to ride "rough-shod" over the interests of the very people who voted them into power. This is when Government begins to "sound-off" in dictatorial tones. When did we hear "It is not a matter for negotiation", "It is already decided", It does not matter what Municipalities or anyone thinks." Perhaps intentions, like the way to Hell, are good in the beginning, but a healthy democracy keeps it's governments in check by the at least occasional ballot box reverses, assuring that the MLA's never lose sight of the importance of the views of the general public.

A Liberal government will eliminate Medicare premiums. The only justification for "universal medicare" in the first place was to ensure that the poor and the children of the poor will have medical attention available. This is not the case then when the poor or unemployed are not able to meet premium payments. The Liberal programme calls for medicare costs to be absorbed by general revenues.

I make only one promise, to do my best, and to support the policy of the Liberal Party of Alberta as published by the Alberta Liberal Leader Bob Russell, and to fight for that which is right, for anyone.

N.F.U. Head Seeks Tariff

SASKATOON -- Roy Atkinson, President of the National Farmers Union, called upon the federal government to match recent action of the United States government and impose an across the board tariff of 10 percent on all imports coming into Canada.

Mr. Atkinson made his demand in a telegram to Prime Minister Trudeau.

"Revenues generated by this levy could be used to pay subsidies to Canadian farmers who will suffer serious losses as a result of the American action."

The N.F.U. President also called upon the govenment to restrict capital transfers by American corporations with subsidianes in Canada.

"We urge you to severely restrict transfers of funds to the parent corporation by American-owned Candian subsidiaries. The United States should not be allowed to solve her self-created balance of payments problem at Canadian expense," Mr. Atkinson said in his telegram.

NEWS NOTES FROM THE D.A.

Should you creep feed beef calves? There is no clear cut yes or no answer.

Some advantages in this year of generally lush pastures:

1. Heavier selling weight.
2. Efficient feed converstion and cheap gains.
3. Makes up for lack of milk caused by age.
4. Calves are more resistant to disease.
5. Because calves are used to feed, they go into feedlot with a minimum of shrinkage.
6. Calves can be weaned earlier and easier.

Some disadvantages:

1. Additional labour costs involved.
2. Masks poor milking ability in dams.
3. Questionable value if pastures are lush.
4. If barley is used, it should be rolled although oats could be fed whole.

From these few comments you can see creep feeding may be right for your neighbour but not for you.

Family Living Position for Mrs. Jubenvill

C. J. McAndrews, director of the Alberta extension and colleges division, has announced the appointment of Marlene Jubenvill to the position of regional family living specialist, effective September 1st. At the present time Mrs. Jubenvill is administrative assistant to the head of the home economics branch.

Her new appointment is the first of its kind in regions 4, 5, and 6 which take in Camrose, Wetaskiwin, Leduc, Drayton Valley and Hinton, and extends north to Valleyview, Swan Hills, Athabasca and Lac La Biche and east to the Saskatchewan border.

The new position was created in response to demands from the area for programs on family living. These programs are designed to help people gain a better understanding of the inter-relationships between people within the family unit. Families will be invited to attend courses, meetings and study groups and to take part in workshops.

Prior to her present position of administrative assistant, which she has held for just over two years, Mrs. Jubenvill was district home economist for the Strathcona-Stony Plain area for four years. Before that she taught the clothing and design merchandising course at the Olds College.

RUSTY ZANDER FOR DRAYTON VALLEY X

RUSTY ZANDER

Your man on the Lougheed team was born and raised in the constituency, received his elementary and junior education at the local school in Tomahawk, and completed his high school education at Concordia College in Edmonton. Rusty and his wife Elsie, have three daughters and one foster child.

He has been engaged in farming at Tomahawk for 30 years. During this time he has also served as councillor, Reeve and Deputy Reeve in the former Municipal District of Stony Plain for 20 years and since 1968 has served as Reeve and Deputy Reeve of the County of Parkland. He has also served as a member of the Stony Plain-Lac St. Anne Health Unit for 17 years, 14 of which were served as Chairman of the Board. He is also serving as a director on the Executive of the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts and Counties. Rusty has served his community in the capacity as President of the Community Club, President of the Curling Club, President of the Rural Telephone Association, as a member of the Drayton Valley Hospital Board and he also served 4 years as Secretary-Treasurer of the Immanuel Lutheran Church of which he is a member.

For many long years watching Social Credit govern the province without opposition he became fearful of the final outcome: the loss of influence by the elected M.L.A., and Government governing people by cabinet only. He feels a common sense approach is needed.

When he discovered Peter Lougheed with a new approach to government of the people and by the people, Rusty felt convinced that at last the role of the MLA would be restored to its proper stature; that is, to govern according to the wishes of the electors and not merely to be a rubber stamp for the Cabinet. He has voiced concern about the great number of appointed boards by government, having no legal training, nevertheless exercising complete authority and judgement as with in Courts of Law.

Rusty has, for a number of years, expressed fear in regard to the ever increasing tax on property. He feels it should only be taxed for services to property, and the Government should be concerned with, and supply the monies needed, for the services to people from the general revenues of the province.

Two more areas of particular concern to him are the function of our education system and the problems related to it. He feels that high school students should become more involved in curriculum planning and general operation of the school system. The other area of concern is the present method and procedure used in the assessment of property. A home located within a town, village or hamlet in Alberta is assessed on the same basis, as if it were situated in one of our two major cities. The homes of our retired farmers are assessed in like manner, even though they no longer earn their livelihood from farming.

IN MEMORIAM

DURHAM -- In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Walter, who passed away August 25, 1970.

One long and lonely year has past,
Since our great sorrow fell;
The shock that we received that day
No one can ever tell.
God gave us strength to meet it,
And courage to bear the blow;
But what it meant to lose you,
No one will ever know.
Ever remembered and sadly missed by wife, Marjorie, and family.

In loving memory of Walter F. Durham who passed away August 25, 1970.

The golden gates stood open
A year ago today,
With goodbyes left unspoken
He gently slipped away.
Always remembered by his daughters Iris and Mary.

Anyone who tries to fix a bathtub drain has to be plumb crazy.

TAKE A JELLY QUIZ

Even if you have never canned in your life this is the year to make jelly! Before you begin let us brush upon your jelly know how:

What Is Jelly?

Fruit juice prepared by means of sugar. Jelly whether made from single fruits or a combination should hold its shape and cut smoothly and easily.

What 4 Ingredients are Essential for Jelly?

Fruit, pectin, acid and sugar. Different fruits vary in the amount of acid and pectin they contain and these amounts decrease as the fruit ripens. Overripe fruit should never be used for jelly.

Acid, Pectin and Fruits?

Acid and pectin rich fruits: grapes, gooseberries, cranberries, crabapples, sour apples

Pectin rich and low acid: sweet apples and quinces.

Acid rich and low pectin: raspberries, strawberries, cherries, pineapple and loganberries.

Acid and pectin low fruits: pears, peaches and blueberries.

Direction found with the commercial pectins should be followed. This keeps the ingredients in proportion as is necessary in jelly making.

How do You make Jelly?

Select sound fruit, wash and discard damaged parts. To this prepared fruit add cold water and simmer until soft in a covered kettle. Strain through fine cheese cloth squeezing to get more juice. Boil in an uncovered saucepan for 3 minutes. A broad flat bottom pan allows room for the foam to rise as the jelly cooks.

How do You Test for Pectin?

Add 1 teaspoon of fruit juice to 1 teaspoon of bubbling alcohol. Blend and let stand for 30 seconds. There is sufficient pectin if a jelly-like mass or clot forms. Then sugar may be added. If the clot does not form contine boiling and testing. After sugar is added, boil until done - when the fluid no longer runs off a spoon in a steady stream, but separates into 2 lines of drops that finally flow together.

What does a Full Rolling Boil Mean?

It means the jelly is bubbling and tumbling on the surface so vigorously that the bubbling action cannot be stirred down. Start timing the cooking when jelly has reached the full rolling boil. Pour into hot sterilized glasses. Leave one quarter inch headspace at the top.

LODGEPOLE NEWS

As summer wanes and weary holidayers recuperate from their trips we can take time to recount the holidays. Early vacationers were rained out and later ones report of hot sweltering drives and literally rubbing elbows or tripping over the next camper squeezed in beside them. Several folks joined the exodus to a good ole' Saskatchewan homecoming visit. The great thing about going on a holiday is the pleasure of coming back home again.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Kay have returned from a short camping trip in the Mara Lake, B.C. area. They visited Carol and Ches Woiden who are living just out of Vernon. They wish to be remembered to all their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. R. McGregor and sons went to Medicine Hat to attend the wedding of their third daughter, Bonnie, to Mr. Leonard Peterson. They will reside in Calgary.

Best wishes for a speedy recovery are extended to Mr. Daniel McDonald who is a patient in Drayton Valley hospital. Also to Mr. Wm. Brooderson who is a patient in Banff hospital.

Sympathy of the community is extended to the Rehn family in the loss of a nephew.
